

Research Scaffold

Before you can become too involved in your project you need to read widely. Each person in your group needs to read five articles that relate to the topic of sustainability. You will be required to take notes about the article. You will use your notes later in the project. You should record the site that you visited, the date you viewed the site and a series of summary dot points.

Title	Date accessed	Summary dot points